

RICE

Who knew

... spouses could have so much fun?

Would you like to find a way to practice your English, and learn idioms and slang the American way along with other internationals? Then come join us for the FREE English classes!

Classes Offered:

- English Idioms and Slang
- Advanced/Intermediate English Conversation
- Beginning English Conversation
- Grammar & Pronunciation

You can find the complete class scheduled and information on how to sign up at <http://oiss.rice.edu/englishclass/>

OISS has a program just for you! It is called International Ladies' Networking Lunches. Ladies, come join us and enjoy some pizza while making new friends!

More information and the schedule for the lunches available at <http://oiss.rice.edu/internationaladies/>

The Rice ID gives you free access to the Fondren library! You can also get discounts in several stores and restaurants in the Rice Village.

Don't have a Rice ID? Visit the Rice Police Department and get yours today!

Looking to discover Houston and your spouse is too busy doing research? Contact the Houston Greeters, a free service that will offer you an adventurous experience provided by local volunteers! For more information call 713-GREETER (473-3837) or visit: <http://www.houstongreeters.org/>.

Note: Dependents on F-2 visas are not legally allowed to enroll in degree seeking courses.

Written by: Office of International Students and Scholars

<http://oiss.rice.edu/dependent>