Bringin a Visiting International Undergraduate Researcher

http://oiss.rice.edu/vsugresearch/

Academic Department advises Visiting International Undergraduate Researcher about the process and required documents.

International Undergraduate Researcher, through the Office of the Registrar’s Website, fills out the Rice Visiting Student Application and pays the Visiting Student Application Fee.

International Undergraduate Researcher submits the required documents to the Academic Department.

Dean’s office creates offer letter and sends it to Academic Department.

Office of the Registrar (OTR) reviews uploaded documents and application materials.

OTR uploads Visiting International Undergraduate Researcher’s file into the Banner System.

After student’s information is uploaded into Banner, OISS reviews documents, issues the immigration documents for J1 visas and prepares packet for the Visiting International Undergraduate Researcher. For F1 visas please see FAQs.

Academic Department picks up packet from OISS, sends it to Visiting International Undergraduate Researcher and schedules Check-in appointment with OISS.

Visiting International Undergraduate Researcher checks in at OISS upon arrival in the USA.

Academic Department pays in accordance to the student research trainee process.

Notes:
1. Students cannot directly add documents into RiceBox.
2. The Academic Department will send OISS an Evaluation Form at the end of the undergraduate researcher’s stay.
